

Rules & Regulations:

1. Your video can be composed of footage from anime, live-action movies, cartoons, television shows, video games, or any combination of these. OMV's (Original Music Video) are also accepted.
2. You are allowed two(2) videos to enter (They can be on the same disc. Just put a txt file with all information. So we know which video is which. Ex. "file1.avi", "file1.txt", "file2.avi", and file2.txt")
3. The videos must be in one of the following formats:
Digital formats: Videos will only be accepted in MPEG-1, MPEG-2, or AVI format. Video quality is 720x480 pixels in size and at a frame rate of 29.97 fps (NTSC) Audio quality of 48khz. Please do not send any video files with a bitrate of over 9000kbps or anything encoded with AC3 audio! If you send a video not in the appropriate format, you will be notified to resubmit. Please do not send VCD, SVCD or DVD-video formatted media, as we will not accept it!
Videotape entries: We do not accept videotape entries.
4. The video can be no longer than five minutes or shorter than 30 seconds
5. Tokyo In Tulsa is a family friendly event. So we will only be placing one additional restriction on video submissions to this event. No overt or abundant sexual (fan service) references, profanity and/or extreme violence/gore. The reason for this is that we do not want to have to card for any over 18 material.
6. Subtitles, logos and watermarks are not allowed. Do not use footage with logos such as DivX, Cartoon Network, Anime Network, etc.
7. The deadline is July 1, 2008
8. Videos can only be submitted by their creators. Anonymous submissions will not be accepted.
9. All videos will be screened beforehand by a panel made up of the contest director and screeners chosen at his/her discretion. This panel will determine which videos will make the contest. Tokyo In Tulsa will attempt to make known the videos that HAVE qualified for the contest, but cannot promise this info will be available before the convention
